The Parties

1. In answer to paragraph 1, the Third Defendant:
  - 1.1 admits sub-paragraph (1)(a);
  - 1.2 does not know and does not admit sub-paragraph (1)(b);
  - 1.3 as to sub-paragraph (1)(c):
    - (a) admits that the plaintiff purports to commence these proceedings as a representative proceeding pursuant to s 157 of the CPA;
    - (b) does not know whether and does not admit that at the time the plaintiff commenced the proceedings, there were 7 or more people who claimed to meet the description of one or more of sub-paragraphs (1)(c)(i), (ii) or (iii) and did not meet any of the descriptions in sub-paragraphs (1)(c)(iv)(A), (B), (C), (D), or (E); and
    - (c) otherwise denies the paragraph.
2. In answer to paragraph 2, the Third Defendant:
  - 2.1 does not know whether and does not admit that immediately prior to the commencement of these proceedings, 7 or more persons claimed to be entitled to relief against the Defendants on the bases set out in sub-paragraph (1)(c) within the meaning of s 157 of the CPA; and
  - 2.2 otherwise denies the paragraph.
3. The Third Defendant denies paragraph 3.
4. In answer to paragraph 4, the Third Defendant:
  - 4.1 admits the paragraph; and
  - 4.2 says further that it does not know whether Camden Council has ever owned all of the land comprising the Spring Farm Area.

5. The Third Defendant admits paragraph 5.
6. In answer to paragraph 6, the Third Defendant:
  - 6.1 admits sub-paragraph (a);
  - 6.2 as to sub-paragraph (b):
    - (a) admits that:
      - (i) prior to its liquidation, it carried on the business of providing professional services in the nature of geotechnical engineering services;
      - (ii) it provided such services at times material to these proceedings;
      - (iii) otherwise denies the paragraph; and
      - (iv) says further that, since it was placed in liquidation, it has ceased providing such services, or any services;
    - (b) admits sub-paragraph (c) (on the basis that the entity identified as the Fourth Defendant is SMECTS Holdings Pty Ltd ACN 063 746 823); and

59. The Third Defendant does not admit paragraph 59.

SMEC TS

Negligence

60. In answer to paragraph 60, the Third Defendant:

60.1 admits that prior to issuing the SCRs, it knew or ought reasonably to have known that each lot in respect of which it had been engaged to issue an SCR was likely to be used for residential building development; and

60.2 otherwise denies the paragraph.

61. The Third Defendant denies paragraph 61.

62. In answer to paragraph 62, the Third Defendant:

62.1 denies the paragraph; and

62.2 says further that the Plaintiff and the Group Members had the capacity to protect themselves from the risk of loss of the kind pleaded in the paragraph, or to avoid, reduce or mitigate the consequences thereof; ~~and~~

Particulars

1. On or around 29 July 2015, Firststyle Homes Pty Ltd (Firststyle Homes) entered into a contract, recorded in writing, with the Plaintiff to construct a dwelling on the Property (Construction Contract).
2. The Plaintiff was the beneficiary of a warranty from Firststyle Homes that the building works to be carried out, completed and handed over to the owner in accordance with the Construction Contract as shown in the contract documents (as defined) (including any variations) would result, to the extent that those works were conducted, in a dwelling that is reasonably fit for occupation as a dwelling (the Firststyle Fitness for Purpose Warranty).

3. The Plaintiff was the beneficiary of a warranty from Firststyle Homes that the building works (as defined) would be performed with due care and skill and in accordance with the plans and the specifications attached to the Construction Contract (the Firststyle Due Care and Skill Warranty).
4. The Firststyle Fitness for Purpose Warranty and the Firststyle Due Care and Skill Warranty were mandated by s 18B of the Home Building Act 1989 (NSW) (the Home Building Act). The protection afforded by those statutory warranties was part of a statutory scheme that had the effect of allocating the risks associated with (amongst other things) residential dwellings that were not fit for purpose, and with failures to perform building works with due care and skill, in new residential dwellings to (amongst other people) the builders of those dwellings and requiring those builders to obtain insurance so that claims for breach of that statutory warranty (and others) could be satisfied.
5. Further, the Plaintiff could have taken one of the steps referred to in paragraphs 1.a to 4.e-1.g of the particulars to paragraph 74.2(a)-74.2(b) below.
6. Particulars-By operation of ss 18B(1)(a), 18B(1)(e), 18B(2), 18C(2), and 18D of the Home Building Act, some of the Group Members had the benefit of statutory warranties given by holders of contractor licences (within the meaning of s 18B of the Home Building Act) who did residential building work, or given by developers (within the meaning of s 3A of the Home Building Act). The content of those statutory warranties was equivalent to that of the Firststyle Fitness for Purpose Warranty and the Firststyle Due Care and Skill Warranty.
7. Further particulars about Group Members may be provided after these proceedings are de-grouped.

63. The Third Defendant denies paragraph 63.

64. [not used]

65. The Third Defendant denies paragraph 65.

66. The Third Defendant denies paragraph 66.

67. In answer to paragraph 67, the Third Defendant:

- 67.1 admits that a reasonable person in the position of the Third Defendant would have exercised due care and skill in the preparation and issuance of the SCRs

(but for the avoidance of any doubt denies that it had any duty to the plaintiff or the Group Members to do so);

67.2 otherwise denies the paragraph; and

67.3 says further that:

(a) the purported reasonable precautions referred to in paragraphs 67(a)-(d) would constitute conduct that goes beyond that which the Third Defendant was engaged to do; and

(b) a reasonable person in the position of the Third Defendant would have exercised due care and skill in providing those services it was engaged to provide (but for the avoidance of any doubt denies that it had any duty to the plaintiff or the Group Members to do so).

68. The Third Defendant does not admit paragraph 68.

69. The Third Defendant denies paragraph 69.

Australian Consumer Law

70. In answer to paragraph 70, the Third Defendant:

70.1 admits that in providing those services it was engaged to provide, it was engaged in conduct in trade or commerce for the purposes of the ACL; and

70.2 otherwise denies the paragraph.

70A. The Third Defendant denies paragraph 70A.

70B. In answer to paragraph 70B, the Third Defendant:

70B.1 says that the paragraph is embarrassing as the allegation about uncontrolled fill and the settlement thereof is not adequately pleaded or particularised, and the paragraph is liable to be struck out; and 70B.2 does not admit the paragraph.

71. The Third Defendant denies paragraph 71.

72. The Third Defendant denies paragraph 72.

72A. ~~The~~ In answer to paragraph 72A, the Third Defendant:

72A.1 denies the paragraph 72A; and

72A.2 says further that the footing system for the dwelling constructed on the Property was designed for a Class P site in accordance with Australian Standard 2870 – 2011.

Particulars

1. The Slab Plan prepared by Secta Consulting Engineers Pty Ltd, a copy of which is at page 493 to Exhibit DMM-1 to the witness statement of the Plaintiff dated 7 July 2022, records (amongst other things):

SITE CLASSIFICATION:

THE FOOTING SYSTEM HAS BEEN DESIGNED FOR A CLASS P SITE IN ACCORDANCE WITH AS 2870 - 2011.

Causation and loss

73. The Third Defendant denies paragraph 73.
74. In answer to paragraph 74, the Third Defendant:
  - 74.1 denies the paragraph; and
  - 74.2 says further that:
    - (a) paragraph 72A.2 above is repeated;
    - (b) (a)-(any loss or damage suffered by the plaintiff or Group Members of the kind particularised was caused by the failure of the plaintiff or Group Members to protect their own interests;

Particulars

1. A reasonable person in the position of the plaintiff would have taken the following reasonable precautions:
  - a. Prior to purchasing the Property, engaging an appropriately qualified engineer to conduct his or her own assessment of the structural adequacy (or otherwise) of the property and its foundations.
  - b. Prior to purchasing the property:
    - i. reviewing the information under the heading "Mine Subsidence" in the s 149 certificate that was attached to the contract for the sale of land; and
    - ii. consulting the Mine Subsidence Board regarding mine subsidence and any surface development guidelines, including by calling the telephone number identified in the s 149 certificate.

- c. Including in the contract for the sale of land terms that protected himself against the risk of undue settlement, or the consequences thereof, such as promises or warranties about the characteristics of the land and the use to which it could be put (including in respect of land within the Council Land, the Cornish Masterplan Area, or the Spring Farm Area other than the Property).
  - d. Prior to completing his purchase of the Property, engaging an appropriately qualified engineer to conduct his or her own assessment of the structural adequacy (or otherwise) of the property and its foundations.
  - e. Prior to constructing a house on the Property, engaging an appropriately qualified engineer to conduct his or her own assessment of the property to ascertain whether or not the Property was appropriate for the building the plaintiff proposed to build.
  - f. If and when it became apparent to the Plaintiff that the dwelling on the Property was not reasonably fit for occupation as a dwelling – making a claim against Firststyle Homes for breach of the Firststyle Fitness for Purpose Warranty.
  - g. If and when it became apparent to the Plaintiff that the building works had not been performed with due care and skill and in accordance with the plans and the specifications attached to the Construction Contract – making a claim against Firststyle Homes for breach of the Firststyle Due Care and Skill Warranty.
2. Particulars about Group Members may be provided after these proceedings are de-grouped.
- (c) ~~(b)~~-further or alternatively, if property values in the Spring Farm Area have been diminished by some perception of stigma, such perception is as a result of the plaintiff or his litigation funder (or both), bringing these proceedings, publicising these proceedings, or both;
  - (d) ~~(e)~~-further or alternatively, if it is the case that all properties in the Spring Farm Area have been become stigmatised, then any Group Member who purchased their property after that became the case would not have suffered any loss as a result of any such stigma, because such Group Member would have purchased the property at a price already affected by the stigma; and

- (e) ~~(d)~~ further or alternatively, if and to the extent that any Group Member has received any compensation from CGSF of the kind referred to in paragraph 87 of CGSF's Commercial List Response, such compensation reduced the amount of any loss or suffered by any such Group Member.

Common Questions of Law or Fact

75. In answer to paragraph 75, the Third Defendant:

75.1 says that:

- (a) there are likely to be some questions of law or fact that, if answered by the Court in respect of the plaintiff, would also effectively dispose of a question of fact or law in respect of one or more other Group Members, and so would be appropriate for the Court to designate as a-common questions-questions; and
- (b) there may also be some questions of law or fact that are common to Group Members but do not arise on the plaintiff's case, and which may be appropriate for the Court to designate as common questions, or issues of commonality, subject to there being appropriate directions providing for sub-group members or sample group members and for the alleged facts underlying such questions or issues to be pleaded; and 75.2 denies that any of the questions set out in paragraph 75 are such questions, and otherwise denies the paragraph.

Initial Case Conference – Practice Note SC Gen 17 clause 4.2(e)

76. The Third Defendant admits paragraph 76.

Limitations – Plaintiff

77. In answer to the whole of the plaintiff's action under s 236(1) of the Australian Consumer Law, the Third Defendant says that:

77.1 The plaintiff entered into the Contract for Sale on 24 February 2015.

77.2 The plaintiff's cause of action accrued on 24 February 2015.

- 77.3 The plaintiff's proceedings against the Third Defendant commenced on 1 July 2021.

Particulars

1. At the time that the initial Statement of Claim was filed, the Third Defendant was already in liquidation, and proceedings could not be commenced against it without leave: Corporations Act 2001 (Cth), s 500.
2. Leave was granted to commence the proceedings against the Third Defendant on 1 July 2021. That leave was granted nunc pro tunc does not affect the date upon which the proceedings were commenced for the purposes of s 236(2) of the Australian Consumer Law, which is a rule of substantive law.

- 77.4 In the premises, the plaintiff did not commence his action under s 236(1) of the Australian Consumer Law at any time within 6 years after the day on which the cause of action accrued.

- 77.5 In the premises, the plaintiff may not recover any amount in his action under s 236(1) of the Australian Consumer Law, by operation of s 236(2) of the Australian Consumer Law.

78. In answer to the whole of the plaintiff's action at common law, the Third Defendant says that:

- 78.1 The plaintiff entered into the Contract for Sale on 24 February 2015.

- 78.2 The plaintiff's cause of action accrued on 24 February 2015.

- 78.3 The plaintiff's proceedings against the Third Defendant commenced on 1 July 2021.

Particulars

1. At the time that the initial Statement of Claim was filed, the Third Defendant was already in liquidation, and proceedings could not be commenced against it without leave: Corporations Act 2001 (Cth), s 500.
2. Leave was granted to commence the proceedings against the Third Defendant on 1 July 2021. That leave was granted nunc pro tunc does not affect the date upon which the proceedings were commenced for the purposes of s 14(1) of the Limitation Act 1969 (NSW), which is a rule of substantive law.

78.4 In the premises, the plaintiff's action at common law was brought after the expiration of a limitation period of 6 years running from the date on which the cause of action first accrued to the plaintiff.

78.5 In the premises, the plaintiff's action at common law is not maintainable by operation of s 14(1) of the Limitation Act 1969 (NSW).

Limitations – Group Members

79. In answer to the whole of the Group Member's action under s 236(1) of the Australian Consumer Law, the Third Defendant says that:

79.1 Any Group Member who purchased property who claims to have suffered damage to property or economic loss as a result of damage to residential buildings located on their properties and/or their properties being in a defective condition, because the land owned by them is unsound for building, and who:

- (a) entered into a contract to purchase such property on or prior to 1 July 2015 (being the date 6 years prior to leave being granted for these proceedings to be commenced as against the Third Defendant);
- (b) or alternatively, completed a contract to purchase such property, or otherwise received a transfer of such property, on or prior to 1 July 2015;
- (c) or alternatively, entered into a contract to purchase such property on or prior to 18 December 2014 (being the date 6 years prior to these proceedings being commenced as against the first and second defendants);
- (d) or alternatively, completed a contract to purchase such property, or otherwise received a transfer of such property, on or prior to 18 December 2014;
- (e) or alternatively, otherwise suffered loss or damage prior to 1 July 2015, or alternatively 18 December 2014, may not recover any amount in an action under s 236(1) of the Australian Consumer Law, by operation of s 236(2) of the Australian Consumer Law, because such action was not commenced at any time within 6 years after the day on which the cause of action accrued.

79.2 Any Group Member who claims to have suffered damage to property or economic loss as a result of damage to residential buildings located on their properties and/or their properties being in a defective condition, because the land owned by them is unsound for building, and who:

- (a) entered into a contract to purchase such property on or prior to 1 July 2015 (being the date 6 years prior to leave being granted for these proceedings to be commenced as against the Third Defendant);
- (b) or alternatively, completed a contract to purchase such property, or otherwise received a transfer of such property, on or prior to 1 July 2015;
- (c) or alternatively, entered into a contract to purchase such property on or prior to 18 December 2014 (being the date 6 years prior to these proceedings being commenced as against the first and second defendants),
- (d) or alternatively, completed a contract to purchase such property, or otherwise received a transfer of such property, on or prior to 18 December 2014;
- (e) or alternatively, otherwise suffered loss or damage prior to 1 July 2015, or alternatively 18 December 2014, does not have a maintainable action at common law, by operation of s 14(1) of the Limitation Act 1969 (NSW), because such action was brought after the expiration of a limitation period of 6 years running from the date on which the cause of action first accrued.

Contributory negligence

80. In answer to the whole of the plaintiff's claim, if (which is denied) the Third Defendant breached any duty of care by reason of the matters alleged in the Statement of Claim, and (which is also denied) those breaches caused the plaintiff to suffer any damage, and only in that event, then:

80.1 A reasonable person in the position of the plaintiff would have taken the precautions referred to in the particulars to paragraph ~~74.2(a)~~ 74.2(b) above.

80.2 The plaintiff did not take any of those precautions.

80.3 In the premises:

- (a) any damage that the plaintiff alleges he has suffered was suffered at least partly the result of the plaintiff's failure to take reasonable care;
- (b) as a consequence, the plaintiff has suffered damage as the result partly of the plaintiff's failure to take reasonable care (contributory negligence) and partly of the wrong (as defined in section 8 of the Law Reform

(Miscellaneous Provisions) Act 1965 (NSW) (the Law Reform Act) of the Third Defendant;

- (c) by operation of section 9(1)(b) of the Law Reform Act, the damages recoverable by the plaintiff in respect of the wrong are to be reduced to such extent as the court thinks just and equitable having regard to the plaintiff's share in the responsibility for the damage; and
- (d) the plaintiff's share in the responsibility for the damage is such that the plaintiff's damages should be reduced by 100%.

80.4 Pleadings and particulars in relation to the Third Defendant's contributory negligence defence in respect of Group Members may be provided after these proceedings are de-grouped.

81. In answer to the whole of the plaintiff's claim, if (which is denied) the Third Defendant contravened s 18 of the Australian Consumer Law by reason of the matters alleged in the Statement of Claim, and (which is also denied) those breaches caused the plaintiff to suffer any damage, and only in that event, then:

81.1 Paragraphs 80.1 to 80.2 above are repeated.

81.2 In the premises:

- (a) any damage that the plaintiff alleges he has suffered was suffered at least partly the result of the plaintiff's failure to take reasonable care;
- (b) as a consequence, the plaintiff has suffered damage as the result partly of the plaintiff's failure to take reasonable care and partly of the conduct of the Third Defendant (of the kind identified in s 137B(c)(ii) of the Competition and Consumer Act 2010 (Cth) (Competition and Consumer Act);
- (c) the Third Defendant did not intend to cause the loss or damage and did not fraudulently cause the loss or damage;
- (d) by operation of section 137B of the Competition and Consumer Act, the damages recoverable by the plaintiff in respect of the wrong are to be reduced to such extent as the court thinks just and equitable having regard to the plaintiff's share in the responsibility for the damage; and
- (e) the plaintiff's share in the responsibility for the damage is such that the plaintiff's damages should be reduced by 100%.

81.3 Pleadings and particulars in relation to the Third Defendant's contributory negligence defence in respect of Group Members may be provided after these proceedings are de-grouped.

Proportionate liability

Introductory

82. In answer to the whole of the plaintiff's claim, in the event that the Court finds:

82.1 that (which is denied):

- (a) the Third Defendant contravened s 18 of the Australian Consumer Law by reason of the matters alleged in the Statement of Claim; and/or
- (b) the Third Defendant breached a duty of care owed to the Plaintiff or Group Members by reason of the matters alleged in the Statement of Claim; and

82.2 that such contravention or breach caused the plaintiff or any Group Member to suffer any loss or damage (which is also denied), and only in that event, then the Third Defendant makes the allegations in paragraphs 83 and following below, and does so only for the purposes of its proportionate liability defence.

83. The plaintiff's claims against the Third Defendant in respect of contravention of s 18 of the Australian Consumer Law are apportionable claims for the purposes of s 87CB(1).

84. The plaintiff's claims against the Third Defendant at general law are apportionable claims for the purposes of the Civil Liability Act s 87CB(1).

85. The Third Defendant repeats paragraphs 1 to 35A of the Statement of Claim as if set out herein.

Camden Council

86. The Third Defendant repeats paragraphs 36 to 46 of the Statement of Claim as if set out herein.

87. The Third Defendant repeats paragraphs 25 to 34 alleged by CSGF in proceedings 2019/147031 as if set out herein.

88. In the premises, Camden Council is a concurrent wrongdoer with the Third Defendant in respect of the damage or loss the subject of the plaintiff's claim for the purposes of s 34 of the Civil Liability Act and s 87CB of the Competition and Consumer Act.

89. In the premises, the Third Defendant's liability in relation to the plaintiff's claim is limited to an amount reflecting the proportion of the damage or loss claimed that the Court considers just having regard to the extent of the Third Defendant's responsibility for the damage or loss.

CGSF

90. The Third Defendant repeats paragraphs 47 to 59 of the Statement of Claim as if set out herein.
91. In the premises, CGSF is a concurrent wrongdoer with the Third Defendant in respect of the damage or loss the subject of the plaintiff's claim for the purposes of s 34 of the Civil Liability Act and s 87CB of the Competition and Consumer Act.
92. In the premises, the Third Defendant's liability in relation to the plaintiff's claim is limited to an amount reflecting the proportion of the damage or loss claimed that the Court considers just having regard to the extent of the Third Defendant's responsibility for the damage or loss.

Landfill Projects NSW Pty Ltd

Negligence

93. On or around 26 October 2010, Landfill Projects NSW Pty Ltd (Landfill Projects) contracted with CGSF to provide landfill and associated spread and compaction earthworks, including cut and fill, at a number of lots in the Cornish Masterplan Area, including the lots identified as the Council Land (Landfill Projects Contract).
94. Thereafter, Landfill Projects provided landfill and associated spread and compaction earthworks, including cut and fill, at a number of lots in the Cornish Masterplan Area, including the lots identified as the Council Land (the Fill Works).
95. At the time it carried out the Fill Works, Landfill Projects knew or ought to have known that the Cornish Masterplan Area, including the Council Land, was likely to be used for residential building development.
- 95A. At the time it carried out the Fill Works, Landfill Projects knew or ought to have known of the Risk of Harm.
96. Paragraph 62 of the Statement of Claim is repeated as if set out in full herein, save that the reference to SMEC TS be substituted with a reference to Landfill Projects.
97. Paragraph 63 of the Statement of Claim is repeated as if set out in full herein, save that the reference to SMEC TS be substituted with a reference to Landfill Projects.
98. At all relevant times the Risk of Harm was:

- 98.1 foreseeable to Landfill Projects; and
- 98.2 not insignificant.

Particulars

1. Landfill Projects, in conducting businesses providing works in the nature of the Fill Works, were or ought to have been aware of:
    - a. the significant risks of damage to buildings constructed on land that was unsound for building; and
    - b. the potential adverse effect on residential property value where the land was or might be perceived to be unsound for building.
99. As a result of the matters pleaded and particulars in paragraphs 93 to 98 above:
- 99.1 there was a significant risk of harm if reasonable precautions were not taken against the Risk of Harm;
  - 99.2 the harm that could occur in the event that the Risk of Harm eventuated was serious in that it could involve significant damage to property and significant economic loss;
  - 99.3 the burden of taking reasonable precautions against the Risk of Harm was low or moderate or, in the alternative, was not unreasonable having regard to the probability that the Risk of Harm would eventuate and the potential seriousness of the harm if that occurred; and
  - 99.4 the social utility of Landfill Projects' relevant activities was not so great as to have impeded it from taking reasonable precautions against the Risk of Harm.
100. As a result of the matters pleaded and particulars in paragraphs 93 to 99 above, a reasonable person in the position of Landfill Projects would have taken the following precautions against the materialisation of the Risk of Harm:
- 100.1 properly conducting the Fill Works necessary to make the Council Land, and certain other parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area, suitable for residential building development;
  - 100.2 taking reasonable steps to ensure that any material used for the Fill Works necessary to make the Council Land, and certain other parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area, suitable for residential building development would itself be suitable; and
  - 100.3 exercising due care and skill in carrying out the Fill Works,

(together and separately, the Landfill Projects Reasonable Precautions).

101. Landfill Projects failed to take any of the Landfill Projects Reasonable Precautions.

Australian Consumer Law

102. Paragraph 70 of the Statement of Claim is repeated as if set out in full herein, save that the reference to SMEC TS be substituted with a reference to Landfill Projects.
103. By entering into the Landfill Projects Contract, performing or purporting to perform the Fill Works, and accepting payment for performing the Fill Works, Landfill Projects represented to the Plaintiffs and members of the public who are purchasers or potential purchasers of residential lots in the Cornish Masterplan Area (including some Group Members) that their performance of the Fill Works was adequate to enable the land upon which the Fill Works was undertaken to be the subject of residential development (Landfill Projects representation).
104. Contrary to the Landfill Projects Representation, by reason of the use of uncontrolled fill and the subsequent settlement, or risk of settlement, of that uncontrolled fill, some or all of the residential lots located in the Cornish Masterplan Area are unsuitable for residential building.
105. In the factual circumstances pleaded above, Landfill Projects engaged in conduct that was misleading and deceptive in breach of s 18 of the ACL.
106. The Plaintiff and some Group Members relied on the Landfill Projects representation, and the conduct of Landfill Projects pleaded in paragraph 105 above, in purchasing residential lots in the Cornish Masterplan Area.

Causation and loss

107. Had Landfill Projects not breached its duty of care and s 18 of the ACL:
- 107.1 paragraphs 5870(a)-(f) of the Statement of Claim are repeated as if set out herein.
108. In the circumstances the Plaintiff and the Group Members have suffered loss and damage as a result of Landfill Works' breach of duty of care and breach of s 18 of the ACL.

Particulars

1. The particulars to paragraph 59 of the Statement of Claim are repeated as if set out herein.

Application of proportionate liability legislation

109. In the premises, Landfill Projects is a concurrent wrongdoer with the Third Defendant in respect of the damage or loss the subject of the plaintiff's claim for the purposes of s 34 of the Civil Liability Act and s 87CB of the Competition and Consumer Act.
110. In the premises, the Third Defendant's liability in relation to the plaintiff's claim is limited to an amount reflecting the proportion of the damage or loss claimed that the Court considers just having regard to the extent of the Third Defendant's responsibility for the damage or loss.

Firststyle Homes

111. On or around 29 July 2015, the Plaintiff and Firststyle Homes entered into the Construction Contract.
112. The Firststyle Due Care and Skill Warranty was a term of the Construction Contract.

Particulars

1. The term was express: see cl 39 of the document on page 394 of Exhibit DMM-1 to the Plaintiff's witness statement dated 7 July 2022.
  2. The term was implied by law: see s 18B(1)(a) of the Home Building Act.
113. Secta Consulting Engineers Pty Ltd (Secta Engineers) prepared the structural design for the dwelling to be constructed pursuant to the Construction Contract (Structural Design).

Particulars

1. The Structural Design was in writing: see pages 492 to 500 of Exhibit DMM-1 to the Plaintiff's witness statement dated 7 July 2022.
114. The Structural Design included 'Foundation Notes', including the following:
- 114.1 "2...Foundation material shall be approved by a suitably qualified engineer before commencing footing construction"
  - 114.2 "3. Where soft spots (bearing capacity of less than 100 kPa) are encountered by natural foundation material or building platform, or where fill exceeds 300mm then additional piers to suitable founding material may be required as directed by the engineer at the time of construction."

Particulars

1. See Drawing Number E-00 Rev A dated 8 July 2015: page 492 of Exhibit DMM-1 to the Plaintiff's witness statement dated 7 July 2022.

115. By reason of the matters pleaded in paragraphs 112 to 114 above, a reasonable person in the position of Firststyle Homes would have taken the precaution of having the foundation material approved by a suitably qualified engineer before commencing footing construction.
116. The foundation material was not approved by a suitably qualified engineer before footing construction.
117. By reason of the matters pleaded in paragraphs 112 to 116 above, Firststyle Homes breached the Firststyle Due Care and Skill Warranty.
118. The fill at the Property underlying the dwelling constructed by Firststyle Homes exceeded 300mm.
119. By reason of the matters pleaded in paragraphs 112 to 114 and 118 above, a reasonable person in the position of Firststyle Homes would have taken the precaution of requesting a suitably qualified engineer to consider whether additional piers to suitable foundation material ought to be included in the design of the dwelling constructed by Firststyle Homes on the Property.
120. Firststyle Homes did not request a suitably qualified engineer to consider whether additional piers to suitable foundation material ought to be included in the design of the dwelling constructed by Firststyle Homes on the Property.
121. By reason of the matters pleaded in paragraphs 112 to 114 and 118 to 120 above, Firststyle Homes breached the Firststyle Due Care and Skill Warranty.
122. By reason of Firststyle Homes' breach of the Firststyle Due Care and Skill Warranty, the plaintiff has suffered loss or damage.

Particulars

1. Had the Firststyle Due Care and Skill Warranty been true, then one or both of the following would have occurred:
  - a. the foundation material would have been approved by a suitably qualified engineer before commencing footing construction;
  - b. Firststyle Homes would have requested a suitably qualified engineer consider whether additional piers to suitable foundation material ought to be included in the design of the dwelling constructed by Firststyle Homes on the Property because the fill exceeded 300mm
2. Had the foundation material been approved by a suitably qualified engineer before commencing footing construction, or had Firststyle Homes requested a suitably qualified engineer consider whether additional piers to suitable foundation material ought to be included in the design of the dwelling constructed by Firststyle Homes on the Property because the fill exceeded 300mm, that engineer would have identified that there was at least 1500mm of fill underlying the dwelling.

3. Had that occurred, the engineer would have identified to Firststyle Homes that one or more of the following should occur:
  - a. the piers featured in the Structural Design would need to be deeper (and perhaps also more numerous) than as then set out in the Structural Design;
  - b. the fill would need to be compacted or otherwise treated.
4. As a consequence of that identification, a dwelling would have been constructed on the Property that was materially free from the structural damage (as defined in paragraph 30 of the Statement of Claim).

123. In the premises, the plaintiff is entitled to recover damages for breach of warranty from Firststyle Homes, such damages to be calculated such that they would place the Plaintiff in the position in which he would have been had the Firststyle Due Care and Skill Warranty been true (so far as it is possible for damages to do so).
124. The Firststyle Fitness for Purpose Warranty was a term of the Construction Contract.

Particulars

1. The term was express: see cl 39 of the document on page 394 of Exhibit DMM-1 to the Plaintiff's witness statement dated 7 July 2022.
  2. The term was implied by law: see s 18B(1)(e) of the Home Building Act.
125. In the premises of paragraphs 1 to 35 of the Statement of Claim, Firststyle Homes breached the Firststyle Fitness for Purpose Warranty.
  126. By reason of Firststyle Homes' breach of the Firststyle Fitness for Purpose Warranty, the plaintiff suffered loss or damage.

Particulars

1. Had the Firststyle Fitness for Purpose Warranty been true, a dwelling would have been constructed on the Property that was materially free from the structural damage (as defined in paragraph 30 of the Statement of Claim).
2. Further or alternatively, had Firststyle Homes complied with the Firststyle Fitness for Purpose Warranty, the Plaintiff would have constructed a dwelling on the Property that was materially free from any structural damage (as defined in paragraph 30 of the Statement of Claim), or alternatively the Plaintiff would have received indemnity against any loss or damage he suffered as a result of any structural damage (as defined in paragraph 30 of the Statement of Claim).

127. In the premises, the plaintiff is entitled to recover damages for breach of warranty from Firststyle Homes, such damages to be calculated such that they would place the Plaintiff in the position in which he would have been had the Firststyle Fitness for Purpose Warranty been true (so far as it is possible for damages to do so).
128. In the premises, Firststyle Homes is a concurrent wrongdoer with the Third Defendant in respect of the damage or loss the subject of the Plaintiff's claim for the purposes of s 34 of the Civil Liability Act and s 87CB of the Competition and Consumer Act.
129. In the premises, the Third Defendant's liability in relation to the plaintiff's claim is limited to an amount reflecting the proportion of the damage or loss claimed that the Court considers just having regard to the extent of the Third Defendant's responsibility for the damage or loss.

Secta Engineers

130. On or before 8 July 2015, Secta Engineers entered into a contract to do residential building work with Firststyle Homes (Engineering Contract).
131. The preparation of the Structural Design was work done pursuant to the Engineering Contract.
132. It was a term of the Engineering Contract that the work done pursuant to the Engineering Contract will be done with due care and skill and in accordance with the plans and specifications set out in the contract (Secta Due Care and Skill Warranty).

Particulars

1. The term was implied by law: see s 18B(1)(e) of the Home Building Act.
133. The Plaintiff has the same rights that Firststyle Homes has in respect of the Secta Due Care and Skill Warranty.

Particulars

1. Section 18D(1A) of the Home Building Act and (if the Engineering Contract was entered into prior to the Plaintiff owning the Property) s 18D(1) of the Home Building Act.

134. At the time it prepared the Structural Design, Secta Engineers knew or ought reasonably to have known that the Structural Design was likely to be used by Firststyle Homes to build a residential dwelling on the Property.
135. At the time it prepared the Structural Design, Secta Engineers knew or ought reasonably to have known that if it failed to exercise reasonable care and skill in preparing that design, there was a risk of damage to property and economic loss being suffered by the Plaintiff (Risk of Structural Damage).
136. At all material times the Plaintiff:
- 136.1 had no or no practicable ability to prevent, avoid or minimise suffering damage to property or pure economic loss as a result of Secta Engineers failing to exercise reasonable care and skill in preparing the Structural Design;
- 136.2 was dependent for the protection of his property and economic interests upon Secta Engineers taking precautions against the Risk of Structural Damage.
137. As a result of the matters pleaded in paragraphs 130 to 136 above, Secta Engineers at all relevant times owed a duty of care to the Plaintiff to exercise reasonable care and to take reasonable precautions against the possibility of the materialisation of the Risk of Structural Damage.
138. At all relevant times the Risk of Structural Damage was:
- 138.1 foreseeable to Secta Engineers; and
- 138.2 not insignificant.

Particulars

1. Secta Engineers, in conducting businesses preparing designs in the nature of the Structural Design, were or ought to have been aware of:
- a. the significant risks of damage to buildings constructed in accordance with structural designs that were not prepared with due care and skill; and
- b. the potential adverse effect on residential property value where a dwelling constructing on land was or might be perceived to be structurally unsound.
139. As a result of the matters pleaded in paragraphs 134 to 138 above:
- 139.1 there was a significant risk of harm if reasonable precautions were not taken against the Risk of Structural Damage;

- 139.2 the harm that could occur in the event that the Risk of Structural Damage eventuated was serious in that it could involve significant damage to property and significant economic loss;
- 139.3 the burden of taking reasonable precautions against the Risk of Structural Damage was low or moderate or, in the alternative, was not unreasonable having regard to the probability that the Risk of Structural Damage would eventuate and the potential seriousness of the harm if that occurred; and
- 139.4 the social utility of Secta Engineers' relevant activities was not so great as to have impeded it from taking reasonable precautions against the Risk of Structural Damage.
140. As a result of the matters pleaded in paragraphs 134 to 139 above, a reasonable person in the position of Secta Engineers would have taken the following precautions against the materialisation of the Risk of Structural Damage:
- 140.1 made investigations as to the depth of fill on the Property, including by making enquiries of one or more of Firststyle Homes, the Council or Cornish;
- 140.2 conducted its own tests as to the depth of fill on the Property;
- 140.3 engaged a suitably qualified geotechnical engineer to conduct tests as to the depth of fill on the Property;
- 140.4 exercised due care and skill in preparing the Structural Design, (together and separately, the Secta Engineers Reasonable Precautions).
141. Secta Engineers failed to take any of the Secta Engineers Reasonable Precautions.
142. By reason of the matters alleged in paragraphs 130 to 141 above, Secta Engineers breached the Secta Due Care and Skill Warranty.
143. By reason of the matters alleged in paragraphs 134 to 141 above, Secta Engineers breached its duty of care to the Plaintiff.
144. Had Secta Engineers not breached the Secta Due Care and Skill Warranty or its duty of care:
- 144.1 Secta Engineers would have identified that there was at least 1500mm of fill underlying the dwelling.
- 144.2 Had that occurred, Secta Engineers would have identified to Firststyle Homes that one or more of the following should occur:

(a) the piers featured in the Structural Design would need to be deeper (and perhaps also more numerous) than as then set out in the Structural Design;

(b) the fill would need to be compacted or otherwise treated.

144.3 As a consequence of that identification, a dwelling would have been constructed on the Property that was materially free from the structural damage (as defined in paragraph 30 of the Statement of Claim).

145. In the circumstances the Plaintiff has suffered loss and damage as a result of Secta Engineers' breach of the Secta Due Care and Skill Warranty and duty of care.

Particulars

1. The structural damage to the dwelling on the Property.
2. Any cost of demolition, remediation, replacement, or repair of that dwelling.
3. Any cost associated with investigating or otherwise ameliorating the structural damage to the dwelling.
4. Any adverse affectation of the value of the Property.
5. The cost of purchasing the Property, including transaction costs in relation to selling or attempting to sell the Property.
6. Inconvenience, distress and vexation.

146. In the premises, the plaintiff is entitled to recover damages for breach of warranty from Secta Engineers, such damages to be calculated such that they would place the Plaintiff in the position in which he would have been had the Secta Due Care and Skill Warranty been true (so far as it is possible for damages to do so), and damages for breach of duty of care, such damages to be calculated such that they would place the Plaintiff in the position in which he would have been had Secta Engineers not breached its duty of care.

147. In the premises, Secta Engineers is a concurrent wrongdoer with the Third Defendant in respect of the damage or loss the subject of the plaintiff's claim for the purposes of s 34 of the Civil Liability Act and s 87CB of the Competition and Consumer Act.

148. In the premises, the Third Defendant's liability in relation to the plaintiff's claim is limited to an amount reflecting the proportion of the damage or loss claimed that the Court considers just having regard to the extent of the Third Defendant's responsibility for the damage or loss.

SIGNATURE OF LEGAL REPRESENTATIVE

I certify under clause 4 of Schedule 2 to the Legal Profession Uniform Law Application Act 2014 that there are reasonable grounds for believing on the basis of provable facts and a reasonably arguable view of the law that the defence to the claim for damages in these proceedings has reasonable prospects of success.
